1 Introduction

1.1 All children, young people and families have basic needs that are provided through universal services. These include education, early years, health, youth services, leisure facilities, and the many services provided by voluntary organisations. Some children, young people and their families, however, have needs which will require the additional support provided by Targeted and Statutory Social Work Services.

1.2 Working Together to Safeguard Children 2015 (Department for Education) makes it clear that safeguarding children and promoting their welfare is the responsibility of all professionals working with children and that they should understand the criteria for taking action across a continuum of need if required.

1.3 This will include protecting children from maltreatment; ensuring that children grow up in circumstances consistent with safe and effective care; taking action to prevent impairment of children’s health and development; taking action to ensure children achieve best outcomes

1.4 This Threshold Document sets out four levels of need and provides guidance to individuals, agencies and staff to help them to identify a child’s level of need and whether additional services are required. It is not a rigid set of procedures: Every child is unique and their needs will change over time. Professionals should seek advice from their agency safeguarding lead. If required they can seek guidance through their local Community Operating Group (COG) or the Multi Agency Safeguarding Hub (MASH).

1.5 Where an alleged perpetrator of abuse either works with or volunteers with children a referral should also be made to the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO) (A Partnership Referral form can be accessed from the SSCB website online or the LADO can be contacted on 0121 569 4770)

1.6 If a child is at imminent and significant risk of harm/immediate danger (and reporting concerns cannot wait an hour while a multi-agency referral form (MARF) is completed), a professional should consider calling 999 in the first instance (for Police or an Ambulance) and also contact children’s social care by telephoning Sandwell’s Contact Centre on 0121 569 3100 (24 hours). The referrer will also be expected to complete a MARF without delay.

1.7 These and other key contact details are repeated in Appendix 1.
2 Principles and Definitions

2.1 Appendix 3 of this document - the Thresholds Matrix - provides illustrative examples about how need might present itself, rather than an exhaustive list of fixed criteria that must be met. The level of need will be increased where there is a multiplicity of factors and professional judgement will always be required.

2.2 The following principles should be considered in applying the framework:

- A child is anyone who has not reached their 18th birthday including unborn children (Children Act (1989))
- All children have the right to grow up safe from harm and to reach their potential.
- Children are best supported and protected when additional needs are identified early and the support is provided in a timely manner and commensurate to these needs.
- The 2004 Children Act encourages agencies, where ever possible, to work in partnership with families and to make onward referrals with their consent. All work undertaken by the Community Operating Groups and with Children in Need must be undertaken with consent. If the practitioner believes that the child may be at risk of significant harm and that consent may place the child at further risk they should take advice from their Safeguarding Lead, if time, and clearly state at the point of referral why consent has not been sought.
- Support should be delivered at the lowest appropriate level to meet the child’s needs thus preventing the need for escalation to more specialist services.
- Support should be based on assessment and intervention delivered through a clear plan of work which is regularly reviewed. This may include the completion of an Early Help Assessment and the creation of a team around the Child/Family.
- Work must be child focussed and care taken to ensure that children/parents/ carers/agencies understand the plan, how this will delivered and their role in it.
- Children with disabilities may have additional vulnerabilities related to their communication, mobility and dependence on others for basic care.
2.3 The term Lead Professional is used within the Framework to mean someone who takes the lead to co-ordinate provision and be a single point of contact for a child and their family, when a range of services are involved with the child or family and an integrated response is required.

2.4 Early Help is an approach to working with, children and families who are below the threshold of social care intervention, but require a multi-agency approach that stops problems emerging and supports families to improve their situation.

2.5 Signs of Safety (SoS) is Sandwell’s chosen Children’s Services approach to our intervention with children, young people and their families. SoS is a solution focussed approach which seeks to put the family at the centre of their plan.
3 Levels of intervention and need

3.1 Children and families are supported most effectively and efficiently when services and information sharing are planned and delivered in a coordinated way.

3.2 By working together agencies can significantly improve outcomes for children and families. Evidence shows that a multi-agency approach is needed to identify vulnerable families early and effectively. Many of the risk factors that are typically seen as the business of one agency can also be supported by other service providers. Often the majority of our work is undertaken with the same families, whether at the same or different times of their lives.

3.3 Sandwell Safeguarding Children Board has adopted a common approach to describing the levels of need and the intervention that may be required by children, young people and their families. These form a continuum as detailed in Figure 1 below.

3.4 These four levels of intervention - Universal; Universal Plus; Targeted Additional Needs; Complex/Significant Needs - have been developed into a matrix of indicators of needs and risks to help describe the circumstances in which an Early Help Assessment (formerly known as CAF) should be considered and when a referral to Children’s Social Care may be necessary alongside a range of universal services.
3.5 The indicators of need for each level of intervention are split into three sections (see Appendix 2):

1. Child or Young Person’s Developmental Needs - including health, education and learning, and emotional and behavioural development.

2. Parent or Carers Capacity - including basic care, safety and emotional warmth.

3. Family and Environmental Factors - including family history, housing and employment.

3.6 How to use the matrix

- Capture the concerns you have for the child or young person, using the three headings as a guide.
- Review the tables in Appendix 3 – Thresholds Matrix to establish the level of need for the child or young person.
- Refer to the process map in Appendix 4 to establish the process for accessing support for the child, young person and their family.

3.7 Which level of need?

The list of indicators contained in this document is not exhaustive and is guidance. In assessing need and risk that require specialist services, multiple factors are likely to be present and decisions as to whether the criteria are met remain a professional judgement. It is also important to remember that the signs that a child or young person has particular needs are often not found in a single piece of evidence but in a combination of factors of indicators.

3.8 The model is intended to ensure the early identification of children and families who require additional help and the provision of services. It aims to prevent children moving towards higher levels of need and to reduce the level of need wherever possible. The boundaries between the levels are not hard and fast and children may present with needs at different levels. Inter-disciplinary discussion and coordination will ensure appropriate services are arranged.

3.9 It is acknowledged that children may move up and down from one level to another and that agencies (including universal services) will offer support at more than one level. Although a professional may refer a family for a more targeted service, it is expected that the professional will still engage with the family during assessment and are likely to continue to have a role as part of Team Around the Family (TAF).

3.10 Support is available with the decision making process. All agencies will have a safeguarding lead that will usually be part of the threshold discussion. Professionals should not delay referral of urgent matters due to the unavailability of their safeguarding lead.

3.11 Advice is also available from your local Community Operating Group (COG) who all hold a weekly meeting in each locality. They provide an opportunity to discuss the co-ordination of support to families where the Team Around the family (TAF) process is not securing the right outcomes and where there is a chronic and escalating need. Professionals from any agency can seek further advice and support. Where appropriate a decision can be made in the meeting to escalate the case to Children’s Social Care. Parental consent for a case to be discussed must be obtained wherever possible in line with established information sharing protocols (Information Sharing: Advice for practitioners providing safeguarding services (March 2015, Department for Education) and Sandwell’s Information Sharing Protocol and MASH/MAET Guidance on Making a Referral, Information Sharing and Seeking Parental Consent can be found on the SSCB website).*

3.12 Where children have an identified lead professional or allocated social worker it will be appropriate to discuss any concerns with them/ their manager in the first instance. Where a child already has an allocated social worker no Multi Agency Referral Form (MARF) will be required.

3.13 If, following guidance from designated Safeguarding Leads within their agency it is agreed that there a child protection concern and a referral to Children’s Social Care should be made, a professional will complete a multi-agency referral form (MARF). A MARF must be completed and submitted within 1 hour.
4 Accessing support for children and families

4.1 Once the practitioner has used the Threshold matrix (Appendix 3) they should determine the best course of action be that:

- Continue provision through universal services (level 1)
- Record and monitor Early Help Notes (formerly known as pre CAF) (level 2)
- Complete an Early Help Assessment (formerly known as CAF) (level 3)
- Refer to children’s social care by completing a Multi-Agency Referral Form (MARF) (level 4)

4.2 Levels 1 and 2 indicate the circumstances in which partner agencies are expected to intervene and provide support to a child and family in order to prevent the need for a specialist service. Levels three and four identify the point at Sandwell MBC Targeted Services and Children’s Social Care will become involved. In all cases consent from the person with parental responsibility should be sought unless this places the child at further risk of immediate harm.

4.3 If a professional is unclear about whether to complete an Early Help Assessment or MARF they should, in the first instance consult their designated Safeguarding Lead within their agency. If the designated lead is not available then advice from a qualified social worker can be obtained as follows:

4.4 Non–urgent advice is currently available from the Social Worker within the local Community Operating Group (see Appendix 1)

4.5 When an Early Help Assessment identifies that multi-agency support is required to meet the needs of the child and family then this team becomes the Team Around the Family (TAF) and is responsible for developing and implementing the plan for the child. The parent/carer and TAF agree who is best placed to become the Lead Professional. The person will coordinate the plan and ensure that regular TAF meeting are held.

4.6 Urgent advice - Where children are not known to Children’s Social Care, referral for these services can be made via the MARF which should be sent to the MASH via the GCSX secure email, access_team@sandwell.gcsx.gov.uk. For queries on the progress of these referrals contact the MASH by telephoning 0121 569 3100.

[IL0: UNCLASSIFIED]
4.7 All children receiving a service from Children’s Social Care will have a plan in place, which will be a Child Protection Plan, Child in Need Plan, Looked After Children (LAC) Care Plan or Pathway Plan.

4.8 Children who have been confirmed as a Child in Need will also require a Team around the Family (TAF) to be formed by the social worker. This will enable development of a formal multi-agency plan of action to meet the child’s needs.

4.9 Where a child is in need of protection the social worker will be the lead professional, the core group takes the place of the team around the family (TAF) and the Child Protection conference reviews the plan.

4.10 Where the child is Looked After or has left care the social worker will be the lead professional, and the plan for children Looked After is reviewed at Looked After Child Reviews led by an Independent Reviewing Officer.

Child Protection Referral

Emergency
If a child is at imminent significant risk of harm/immediate danger (and reporting concerns cannot wait an hour while a MARF is completed), a professional should consider calling 999 in the first instance (for Police or an Ambulance) and contacting Children’s Social Care by telephoning Sandwell’s Contact Centre on 0121 569 3100 (out of office hours is the same number). They will also be expected to complete a MARF without delay.

The out of hours Emergency Duty Team is available outside office hours and can be contacted on 0121 569 2359

Non-Emergency
If there is no immediate danger but the child has met the threshold for children’s social care, the professional should complete and submit a MARF within 1 hour. They will not be required to telephone Children’s Social Care to inform them of the referral but it is vital that the referrer is available to discuss the referral.

The MARF and guidance on completing a MARF can be found at www.sandwelllscb.org.uk

MARFs should be sent by secure email to access_team@sandwell.gcsx.gov.uk with the subject title MARF. For those agencies who do not have secure email, password protect the MARF before sending, and advise Sandwell's Contact Centre of the password.
Appendix 2: The Framework for the Assessment of Children in Need and their Families

The Framework for the Assessment of Children in Need and their Families (assessment triangle) is a visual tool to assist in the assessment of three domains - Child’s developmental needs; Parenting capacity; Family & environmental factors. Each of these domains are represented by a side of the assessment triangle and correspond to the three domains used in the Threshold Matrix (Appendix 3). Assessments should take account of all three domains and how these impact on the child and their development.

The Framework provides a systematic basis for collecting and analysing information to support professional judgements about how to help children and families in the best interests of the child. Practitioners should use the framework to gain an understanding of a child’s developmental needs; the capacity of parents or caregivers to respond appropriately to those needs, including their capacity to keep the child safe from harm; and the impact of wider family and environmental factors on the parents and child. The complex interplay of factors across all three domains should be carefully understood and analysed. Its purpose is to identify the child’s and other family members’ needs and agree on the desired outcome of any involvement.

Response

These children require no additional support beyond that which is universally available. An Early Help Assessment is not needed for these children. If a child’s needs have been identified & can be met by the agency with the concern an Early Help Note should be used to capture & record needs. These should be logged on the Early Help System & be regularly reviewed, at least every 6 weekly, by the agency completing them.

In these circumstances an Early Help Note should be completed to capture and record needs. If at any time the outcome indicates a need for multi-agency services, an Early Help Assessment should be completed with consent in collaboration with family/child/person. Complete assessment on the Early Help System to request a Team Around Family (TAF) Meeting/Forward E1H1 form to MASH Early Help Desk.

A Lead Professional will be responsible for coordination of the episode. Reviews to take place at least 3 monthly. If you require support to complete an Early Help assessment or convene a TAF meeting you should contact your local COG team for advice (see page 8)

Appendix 5: What makes a good referral – a guide for professionals

Whether making a referral for targeted services or completing the multi-agency referral form (MARF) the details of the referral make a difference to the timeliness of our intervention and the quality of our work with children, young people and their families. Guidance is also available on the Sandwell Safeguarding Children Board website (www.sandwellscb.org.uk)

When you have completed your referral it may help for you to ask yourself the following questions:

1. Does the person with parental responsibility know that I am concerned about their child and that I am making a referral? Have they consented to the referral being made?

   Why? The 2004 Children Act and the 2008 Information Sharing Protocols are clear that consent should be sought wherever possible. In some cases you will have concerns that a child is at risk of significant harm and parental consent is not forthcoming. In these cases you should state on the referral what action you have taken to try to gain consent. In some rare cases your professional view will be that seeking consent will increase the risk to the child. This may include the risk of forced marriage or female genital mutilation. In these cases state clearly on the referral form why you have not sought consent.

2. Have I included all the personal details I have about the child/ young person and their family?

   Why? Including these details including DOB/ethnicity/ telephone numbers/ up to date address/ language and a family composition mean that the child ‘s records can be accessed quickly and that any intervention can be provided in a timely way. Phone numbers in particular mean that families can be contacted quickly. Where English is not a first language details will allow the provision of an interpreter.
3. Have I included details about any other professionals working with the family?

Why? Knowing these details, especially if there has been a Team around the Family, will ensure that their knowledge and skills be part of our assessment and intervention.

4. Have I made it as clear as possible what I am concerned about?

Why? Making it clear what you are concerned about helps Sandwell Children’s Services in their decision making. Sometimes you may not be absolutely certain about what is happening for the child/young person. In these cases provide as much detail as possible. Remember that you have professional expertise and will be up to date with research and practise in your field of work. Try to reduce the use of jargon and provide some analysis. For example: as a health professional you may be concerned about failed appointments or concealed pregnancy; as teacher you may be concerned that a child’s changed behaviour and demeanour that is effecting their learning. Setting out what this means for the child and the impact on their development will ensure that the assessing social worker or targeted practitioner (who will not have the same level of expertise in your area) understands your perspective and can include this analysis in their assessment.

5. Have I made it clear what I have done already and what worked or didn’t work?

Why? Research tells us that we sometimes ‘start again’ with families. This is especially the case where there is chronic neglect or with families who appear compliant with plans but fail to either follow through with work or fail to sustain change. Knowing what has been worked well enables targeted and social work services to build on success; knowing what has failed to sustain change ensures that this can be explored and other solutions sought.
6. Have I made sure that I will be available for further discussion about the referral and how I can be contacted?

Why? As the referrer you are the person with the most up to date knowledge of the child/young person and we want you to be involved in our decision making and intervention. We aim to make a decision on every referral within 24 hours. If you cannot be available please provide the name and contact details of someone familiar with the child and your concerns who can act for you.
